FINANCIAL REFORMS.

REFORMATION measures are easily talked. Every one, Minuti down to our "absent friend," can see defects in them. Government clerks, brass-cap vigilantes, idle artillerymen, and politicel counter-jumpers all have their ideas of the projector and the project; and if there is anything most calculated to disgust upright and honest men from occupying public positions, it is the insufferable intermeddling of a set of ignorant popinjays in financial or political matters, which they are incapable of comprehending as they are of performing the labour which the country pays them large salaries for.

We have heard the Finance minister's project of nationalizing the Bank, characterized as a breach of good faith, and a violation of the compact entered into between the nation and the province.—But we cannot agree with those parties who, in every measure, see some political colour, some self interested motive. We believe that the minister, finding the impossibility of managing Budget For the incoming year, to the state of the currency about, in good earnest by the evil. Insure sound, and with Resources sufficient to

Her Tiend, the plan St. Riestra seems to honest and straight-Shut up the Caja de pends, and place the finances the country in the hands of Stock Company.—But those Mr. Riestra's plan bears the of honesty, yet it is equal prove doubt to us whether or not, are not prepared to admit the country is ready for a scheme as Sr. Riestra's. But any company could, in 25 years, make sufficient profits to reimburse themselves for the outlay necessary on the redemption of the paper-emissions of half a century. We find, therefore, objections almost insuperable to Sr. Riestra's scheme, and we regret this the more when we recollect his intimate acquaintance with the financial matters of the country; but convince, as we are, of the impossibility of ever forming such a joint-stock company as the one proposed, we fall back on our own project, as sound and most feasible of all the B ink as it is: if the country is to be remedied, let it be negotiated in England but purpose. The best man could send to England to arrange the matter would be Mr Riestra himself. The loan should be for the minimum sum of 2½ millions sterling, minimum one million. Whatever would be the actual sum necessary to buy up the paper would be at the disposal of the Bank, and at a moderate interest. Bank monopoly should be for ever abolished; any institution which is not able to stand on its own bottom, without being propped up by Government patronage and fiscal priorities, is unfit to exist in a republican country, and the sooner we get rid of such concerns, the better for us all.

Still, there is a muduess in the manner in which the Finance Minister comes before the public and asks support. We like plain dealing, and as it is now an admitted fact, that the currency must be reformed, we trust the set our influential men all lay aside political feelings, and, like Mr Riestra, assist in the good work.

LETOR'S TABLE.

MELLE. ARTHUR left yesterday evening for Montevideo, on board the Mercury, taking her final adieu of Buenos Ayres, as she will proceed to the Banda Oriental. Her departure was rather sudden, as she had promised us a concert for the British Hospital and Irish Relief Fund, besides declaring her intention to take a month's vacation in the camp. We wish her a safe return to France.

Cotton plants may be seen growing in Sr. Lezica's estate, from the seed which we distributed. There are n'so some 40 plants in Mr. Price's garden, near the English cemetery, which are thriving most notably, the stalk being from 4 to 5 feet high. Finger they grew 2 inches in height since the last rain.

Mr. Davies's scheme for watering the city is; we are told, before the National ministry, but we cannot find the municipality. This is good news, for although we are not up in hydraulics and cannot therefore say whether Mr. Murray's project is not practicable, we hail with delight any plan for supplying sewage and pipe-water, and half a loaf is better than no bread.

Some of th Ocean Circus Co. were seen yesterday promenading in the streets with large whips, which we presume were not intended for immediate application to quadrupeds. It is a serious matter to ride the Yankees, and we advise our hyper-critical colleagues to look out: cow-hiding is very dangerous.

Count Escola's hands shall has not yet burst; he took his elevation a wrong angle, and aiming at the Standard went wide of the mark. We advise him to try his hand at fire, as gunners have sometimes had themselves in trying to manage a bad piece.

An Irish hodsman was sent to prison, last Week, by a native Alcalde only on charge of stoning a Spaniard. Shut up the Court of Alcaldes, and place the finances in the hands of the Police, and we feel sure that any company could, in a few years, make sufficient profits to reimburse themselves for the outlay necessary on the redemption of the paper-emissions of half a century. We find, therefore, objections almost insuperable to Sr. Riestra's scheme, and we regret this the more when we recollect his intimate acquaintance with the financial matters of the country; but convince, as we are, of the impossibility of ever forming such a joint-stock company as the one proposed, we fall back on our own project, as sound and most feasible of all the B ink as it is: if the country is to be remedied, let it be negotiated in England but purpose. The course Mr. is on at present very much have not been published; we also note marks of slight and demand the public should be acquainted with the measures taken for their security from assassin ation by soldiers.

The Lodge of the Lake is disbanding the cotton seed, so that we shall not be in all the year 1862. The captain, we regret has been sick, but where was the ship's doctor? The Lady in question might have been covered with ignominy, if her husband and the mate had not, happily, been more attentive.

Sr. Jordana's geography, like Mr. Gallois's gorticulture, is the most confused and contradictory. He has received Martin Garcia to be either Oriental or Argentine, the truths it gave in the last war. Uis last effort however, is the most original. The Historia Argentina, which now of Rio for 1863 we see the was changed with "seeping" the from one of our professional brethren.

Mr. Bridges opens in town a boarding house during the wool season; some Irishmen, however, have determined to avoid the dangers of sodden beds, subscription lists, policemen &c., and come to more than one in Montevideo, where Dr. Adolph Wilkinson will be ever to hospitable, and Mr. Bridges will be content with moderate profits.

The steamer to St. Fe and Paraná is advertised to sail on the 30th, but as months, we don't even years, have seen this date unthrough, we are sceptical about it. A gentleman called on Enrique Ciddi for a passage ticket, and was told that the steamer might launch Ciddi if she was forwarded to us with a public letter wishing us success in war, in return for a local event, but as we were not inclined to puff it, the matter was called at the office requiring the ticket, at 2 P.M.

Great discussion exists in town as to whether the Marquis of Sligo is coming here, to shew Portella's sire Irish peer. At present the noble absentee, instead of marching the hungry hordes of his native hills, with his presence, is probably explaining to Parliament the nature of the order of St. Patrick, and showing his Imperial Majesty the ways in that happy region called Connemara.

LATEST FROM BRAZIL.

By the Teventius, arrived in Montevideo 15th inst, we have dates from Rio Janeiro up to the 10th. A sham battle took place on the 5th, at the military school, representing the recapture of Bahiago by Wellington; the pandemonium: farmers, carters, broken, &c, all higgledy piggledy. The farmers are indignant that they can't get better prices, the carters cursing and swearing at the want of roads, and the brokers unable to buy for want of storage. The Commissary loads the dances, and one of our broken friends has 153 cutlasses in his left breast-coat-pocket, the bearer of which would scarcely until 1864.

A carcload of fine merino wool was exposed into a public auction for from the English cemetery, and the wool was immediately bought by the Government.

Sunday last was the anniversary of the old plan of leaving fleeces to fill up mud-ponds, he preferred.

In the South Plaza a row occasioned lately between a broker, boy, and several others. The first had bought the same lot of wool from the second at 101, and from the third at 100. Each combatant was about to have a friendly with the other two, but the cause of the fight ended in an entente cordiale.

An unintellectual cow broke the telegraph wires, on Wednesday, near Moron, thus, like the enemies of free-press, preventing the speedy interchange of ideas. The offender has been as lucky the G. Monto murderer, escaping unpunished.

THE AMERICAN WAR.

REPORTED RECAPTURE OF ISLAND 10 BY THE REBELS.

STEAMBOAT ATTACK BY GUERRILLAS.

Cairo, Oct. 21st.

A report is in circulation here to night that the rebels have attacked and captured Island No. Ten. The report is not traceable to any reliable source.

It is said that Price has been reinforced recently by fifteen thousand men, and now occupies strong ability.

The steamer Cahoolla was fired into by guerrillas on Saturday morning, thirty miles below Memphis, and two men wounded.

The steamer evening the steamer Gladiator was attacked by a band of rebels while loading cotton twenty-five miles below Memphis, and two persons killed and seven wounded.

The boat was fired the boy, but the flames were extinguished with out doing much damage, and the boat escaped.

The rebels continue to burn cotton in the neighborhood of Memphis.

NEW YORK HERALD EVENING—Reported that McClellan's army will immediately cross into Virginia, and commence active operations. The Federals still in future make their headquarters at Pilot Knob, Mississippi, instead of Corinth. Southern journals acknowledge a defeat at Corinth, and estimate their loss at 5000. Treasury Secretary Chase is seriously sick. Nashville is reported to be entirely surrounded by Confederates. The abandonment of Winchester, Virginia, by the Confederate is not confirmed. Federal General Damont captured two pieces of artillery and 150 Confederates, at Versailles, Kentucky, and the Confederates captured a big quantity of Federal waggons, and 500 Federals, at Frankfort, Kentucky. A large Democratic ratification meeting has been held in New York, and resolutions were passed, demanding the administration to fulfil their promise to carry on the war constitutionally; condemning Lincoln's emancipation proclamation, and denouncing the suspension of the writ of "habeas corpus." The Republicans were denounced as a party of revolutionists s. A letter from General Scott to S. Ward, dated March, 1861, was read, in which Scott said that the only plans open to Lincoln, were the adoption of the Crittenden compromise, or to attempt the conquest of the South, which was pacific cable in three years; with 300,000 men, under generals like De Soto, Wolfe, and Hoche, but at enormous cost of blood and treasure; but afterwards the people could never be brought into harmony with their conquerors, but have to be held for a generation by a large garrison. Scott announced the necessity of the Crittenden compromise, or a long war. Scott to depart to a peace Butler has officially announced that no plan of civil rule will be recognized from the native inhabitants of New Orleans. All refusing to take the oath or allegiance are to be made prisoners of war.

The police authorities exercise great supervision, by getting drunk at the Bellevenia Hotel, near Bridge mall. Ladies have refused to ride on the Belt Line railway, owing to the indecent and improper conduct of the conductors on the cars.

CHINA.

Shanghai, Sept. 19 (via Java).

The Taepings have again retired from the vicinity of this city, and the surrounding country is now quiet.

The Mahomedans who revolted at Shen-i have succeeded in capturing the city and 24 towns in the vicinity, killing all the Mandarins, and destroying every vestige of the Imperial authority.

FOREIGN MISCELLANY.

MAJORITY OF THE PRINCE OF WALES.—We have reason to believe that the Baltic of Field-Marshal will be conferred on the Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge, and Lords Gough and Clyde, named at by after the Heir-Apparent s all have attained is majority. "Turning Papa?"

THE "Semaphore" of Marseilles announces the arrival in that city of the Queen of Naples, wife of Francis II. The Princess, who is represented as accompanied by a numerous suite, travels under the name of Madame de Oydenbach. The count and Countess de Trani have also arrived at Marseilles s.

—The Subscription" analyses as follows the aggregate of the Priests, who have signed their name to the ultramontane and to the Encyclical—the Holy Father. The number of the whole is reckoned at 19,000—the figures 3255 suspended Priests; 6 Priests who have abandoned their sacred calling; 587 unfrocked Monks; 974 who are not Priests at all; 833 names purely fictitious. So much," says the "Subscription," for the Pascal gift address!"

GREECE AND HER EX-KING.—The Greek ambassadors of unpunished Greek schools require children Lucca. If Greek beef it is a ban for Western digestions, the fault of native idleness is cast on the detested Bavarian princes. Ploughs, unimproved since the days of Hesiod, scratch the ground through the misgovernment of a single generation and it is alleged, with more reason, that the Bavarians have run to waste, and that the extravagance of the Court has swallowed up the means of opening the country to internal traffic. Even the corruption which has pervaded every branch of the Administration, although it may have originated with the King, has been practised by Greeks, and upon Greeks.—Saturday Review."

THE POLIGNACS.—Another death has plunged into mourning one of the noblest families of our Parisian aristocracy—that of the Duchess Dowager of Polignac. Idalie Jeanne de Noukirken belonged to an illustrious family of the Low Countries, when, in 1790, she married the Duke Armand de Polignac, the nephew of that charming Countess de Polignac so tenderly beloved by the unfortunate Marie Antoinette. Her husband died some years before the Revolution of 1848. They had never had any children. The Polignacs trace their origin very far back. The old family died out, but the name is grafted on the Cottereaux Polignacs, is still transmitted through three branches, the principal of which is that represented by the present Duke de Polignac, the son of the famous Minister of Charles X. The Duchess Dowager of Polignac, who has just died, had witnessed the accession of Louis XV., the reign of Louis XVI., and had lived through the Republic, the first Empire, the reigns of Louis XVIII, and Charles X., besides all the Governments we have had since in France.

NEW YORK WOOL MARKET.

Oct. 15 1862

Unwashed Merino Wool.—Put lit... the movement in this class of wool, ...the demand being mostly for a few ...and coarse wools. A few bales have ...been received direct from Buenos Ay... ...res, and a considerable quantity from ...Portland, Antwerp and Hawre, and ...no shipments to me the way. Abb... ...eight bales of the past month are r... ...ported on private terms. The pric... ...ranges up to 45 cts in bond per lb. Fine wools have been engaged to ...a certainty in price to the lower gr... ...des by not paying for any of the ...clip. Holders are confident of obtai... ...ing better prices when the manufac... ...turers commence again making goods ...for civilians and there is no doubt ...probability that their expectations will ...be realized.

Wool of Cordova, Santiago, Sa... ...Luis and Mendoza [WOOL.—The im... ...portation direct are 3852 Bales, all of ...which has been sold, part previous to ...arrival, a parcel still remaining in ...store which was also sold previ... ...ously. Prices realized, 37 1/2 ...@ 39 cts per lb. The first for ...the new clip are in dribs ...pers, and on account of the scarcity ...and high price of goods of wool, ...which has for so long a time ruled, ...the description of wool will be required, ...and has only been sold at high prices, ...for this destination. The Carpet ...industries have now also commenced ...and the wool, say they would rather ...pay the high price than use them at pre... ...sent prices, as they are unable ...to receive much of this wool from ...England, as late accounts show its ...scarcity there, and the poor return to ...be had upon it in the sale of duty free, ...and would prevent a profitable import... ...ation with the high rate of exchange ...and present prices of duty.

General Remarks on Wool.—There ...has not been so much excitement in ...the past month, but prices are ruled ...and permanently receding. Sales ...have been to heavy to most buyers ...to wool adequate and exorbitant de... ...mands, but the large stocks of clothiers ...speculators and dealers, indicate the ...firm conviction that all the goods will ...be wanted, and no disposition to buy ...unless at considerably. Medium and ...Common Wools have experienced the ...greatest variance as they were requir... ...ed for new goods, thus demanding ...very low prices under very circum... ...stances to our government will continue ...to keep a large army under arms for ...the field. The recurring and very high ...prices of Cotton, which has been held ...at 55 to 57 cts per lb, and necessa... ...rily turns the attention of manufactu... ...rers to the necessity of making ...woollen goods. There is now no ...indication of any change with regard ...to the sake of the press, and to fill ...the season, as such to supply the wool ...trade, that forms were made of ...will require all the wool that is ...ble, as the wide quantity pro... ...duced in the world was not, previous ...to this extraordinary demand, consider... ...ed more than sufficient, if equal to its ...requirements. These considerations ...I see no change on that line would ...will be wanted, and when the demand ...sets in will advance in price.

The demand for the United States ...forced the European mark to tolera... ...ble well supplied, and prices such that ...shipments could be made either with ...profit or loss. Those markets have ...been from what depended with the de... ...mand, and with the growing convic... ...tion that they will require all the wool ...they have, and will be likely to re... ...ceive, prices have advanced, and it ...would not be surprising if we soon ...learned of a wool excitement in Eu... ...rope.

These facts, make it quite proba... ...ble that we will not receive much ...wool from the European markets after ...reported shipments arrive. A higher ...rate of freight would be said at to the ...high duty of 9 cts. per lb., and with ...exchange at rate that add a much ...one fifth to the cost, there will not be ...much inducement for shippers to ope... ...rate. As all goods produced exempt ...from duty of 9 cts per lb, by the tariff ...of August 2nd, will pay 10 per cent ...ates duty, if not imported direct, we ...must receive our supply of foreign ...wools, for some time to come direct ...from place of growth, Morocco, Tur... ...key and East India wools, have found ...their only sale here, and a fair equiv... ...alent obtained in the most from the ...English markets. An American vessel ...is now loading for one of our ...Boston Woolstaplers, and several ...more will proceed very light pro... ...bably.
